Electronic Live Premiere Under The Stars
=====

-----
ROTHKAMM "FB02 - Astronaut of Inner Space"
-----

The psycho-cybernetic sounds of "sci-fi serialism" will be presented on the island of Manhattan close to the stars for an auditory TRIPHONY experience with a magnificent view.

"FB02 - Astronaut of Inner Space", a space drama made entirely from pure electronic music has been 3 years in the making and is now installed for one night only in a tetrahedron designed by ROTHKAMM. The premiere will be on Thursday, June 29th, 2006 at exactly 9.04 P.M., the beginning of civil twilight, and will last 33 minutes and 33 seconds. Afterparty is at the Monkey Room Bar.

Tickets are $33.- (R.S.V.P only, VIP and press requests honored) and include pre-theatre hors d'oeuvres and the 1st edition of the Compact Disc ROTHKAMM "FB02 - Astronaut of Inner Space".

ROTHKAMM - born 1965 in Gütersloh, Germany. Lives and works in New York City. His encyclopedic work is connected to a matrix of electronic music, conceptual art, supermodern architecture, transcendental idealism and digital media. It probes notions of the hidden within the dialectics of commercial and underground culture, an extended music concept that critically shape-shifts the role of the composer in society and gives testament to both a utopian future and a forgotten past.
